MONKEY TRIAL BAN IS REFUSED BY U. S. JUDGE

Injunction to Stop Trial of Teacher is Refused by Federal Judge Gore

HOLDS NO JURISDICTION

Plea Was Based on Ground That Property Rights of University
Were Violated

(By Universal Service)
COOKEVILLE, Tenn., July 6.—Federal Judge John T. Gore late this afternoon refused to issue an injunction halting the prosecution of John T. Scopes on charges of violating Tennessee's anti-evolution law.

The injunction was asked by John R. Neal, attorney for young Scopes, on the ground that the prosecution violated the Teacher's constitutional rights. His petition also was based on the allegation that the property rights of the University of Tennessee were violated. The university having participated in a federal grant.

Judge Gore held he had no jurisdiction to intervene in the state case.

CONSERVATIVE PANEL

DAYTON, Tenn., July 6.—The fate of John T. Scopes, charged with violating Tennessee's anti-evolution law, will be determined by conservative middle aged men of the mountains if his jury is finally drawn from the panel chosen today by the Rhea county court.

The court composed of 16 justices of the peace from Rhea county named 29 citizens in the first venire. From this number the Scopes jury will be chosen in all probability as only six preemptory challenges are allowed under Tennessee law.

Of the twenty-nine talesmen, all were of high standing in the community and known conservatism. They range in age from 32 to 69, with the average well in the forties. Fourteen were farmers three fruit growers, seven merchants, three school teachers, one traveling salesman and one a county physician.

Frances Vestal Dies Suddenly At Walnut Creek

Funeral services for Frances A. Vestal, 649 Sixty-second street, Oakland, who dropped dead at Walnut Creek Sunday, will be held from the Berkeley Undertaking company parlors this afternoon at 2 o'clock under the direction of Wilson and Kratzer of Richmond. Interment will be held in Mountain View Cemetery, Oakland.

Vestal was out blackberrying with his son in the vicinity of Walnut Creek on Sunday, when he was stricken with a heart attack and dropped over dead. Coroner C. F. Donnelly will conduct an inquest into the death at Walnut Creek this evening. Wilson and Kratzer brought the body to Richmond and will take it to Oakland today.

Deceased was 82 years of age and a native of Missouri. He was the husband of Rosalia Vestal; the father Maude, Faye, Beth, William, Olen, Charles, Harold and Bruce Vestal; the brother of Albert Vestal of Kennett, and Mrs. Mary Roley of Los Angeles.

Officials Thanked For Air Congress

Expressions of gratitude to the city council, the city manager, the chief of police and the fire chief, for their cooperation in making the Richmond air meet a success, were communicated to the city council last night by the Chamber of Commerce in a letter from H. A. Johnston, president of the chamber. The letter was placed on file.

Funds Transferred To Street Issues

The city council last night voted to transfer the sum of $7,249.85 from the general fund to the bonding fund to take care of a shortage of this total amount in the 1915 street improvement bond issue. The shortage was reported by City Treasurer Ira R. Vaughn, who recommended that the transfer be made.

Applications and Petitions Handled By City Council

Application of Oliver Wylie to use an old building on Second street, known as lot 13, block G of the Richmond Tract, for laundry purposes, was referred to the city planning commission by the city council last night.

The council as a whole took under consideration for one week the application of Frank Swenker for a permit to install a gasoline pump on the curb at a new service station on San Pablo avenue near the Rust-Campbell company plant.

E. P. F. Burns, of 2126 Barrett avenue, was granted a gratuitous license to peddle merchandise in the city of Richmond. His application was endorsed by Chief of Police Dan Cox.

Fred A. Clark was granted a permit to conduct a soft drink stand at a service station recently installed at San Pablo and Wenck avenues. Clark is a resident of Berkeley.

Application of Joe Matteucci to alter the Roma Hotel at Point Richmond was laid over for one week. By order of the state housing commission Matteucci cannot use the building until it is altered, but he now wants to know what will be done with the house when Standard avenue is widened. This information will be determined by next meeting night of the council.

Petitions for a fire hydrant at Clinton and Humboldt avenues were laid over for another week, by the council.

Petitions for the approval of the master plumber's bonds of George W. Doll and John I. Collins were accepted and approved.

West Side Rails Being Removed

Old and unused rails which have long been a menace, not alone to motor traffic but in some instances to pedestrians as well, will soon be but a memory on the streets of the West Side.

City Manager McVittie reported to the city council last night that the work of removing the rails from Washington and Richmond avenue and Park Place was commenced yesterday.

Enforcement of Prohibition is Criticized by Pinchot In S. F.

(By Universal Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—Disagreement with Secretary Herbert Hoover's statement regarding state regulation of the power industry of the United States and sharp criticism of the failure of the agents of the Treasury Department to enforce the 18th amendment in Pennsylvania were high lights of a speech delivered here today before the Commonwealth Club by Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania.

"The refusal of the officials of the Treasury Department under Secretary Mellon to cooperate with state enforcement officers has been one of the difficulties of law enforcement in Pennsylvania," Governor Pinchot said. "Absolute control of the storage alcohol and the brewery interests in their hands and they have utterly failed to do their duty," he said.

"But public sentiment in Pennsylvania is for law enforcement. We have been educating the people to realize that it is just as unlawful to violate one part of the constitution, and that there are no shades of difference possible in determining the sacredness of the document. The influential law breaker is just as contemptible as one of the commonest law breakers of the country."

"If the people of Pennsylvania were asked to vote on a clear cut wet and dry issue today, they would vote overwhelmingly dry."

Governor Pinchot told of the attempt which is being made in Pennsylvania to stem the tide of the "almost complete nation on wide electric monopoly."

"The electric power monopoly will be the greatest special interest in this country, if it is allowed to continue," he said.

Police Woman Is Not Favored by Council Members

After considerable discussion of the question of appointing a policewoman to have supervision over dances and other public amusements in Richmond, the city council last night referred the matter to City Manager A. J. McVittie and Chief of Police Dan Cox.

McVittie was of the opinion that several policewomen would be needed, if any, since one could not very readily attend all the amusements. Councilwoman Mrs. Osborn made a good talk, declaring that she could see little need for a policewoman, but suggested if one were employed that she be a woman of known ability and experience.

Chief Cox said he did not think a policewoman was necessary, and Mrs. Mattie Chandler, councilmember, declared there is no need for a policewoman or for a supervisor of dances and amusements.

"We have a very model and moral, clean little city," Mrs. Chandler said, and she classed Rev. Greenlee's report to the city council about the alleged immorality of the city as having been "made three years ago and half of it not true anyway."

It was on Rev. Greenlee's report several weeks ago, that Mayor Plate suggested the appointment of a policewoman.

HURT IN EARTHQUAKE

Mrs. Henrietta Best received a broken bone, a badly fractured right arm, numerous cuts and bruises, when a fireplace crumpled and pinned her in her bed during the Santa Barbara quake, according to word received yesterday by Mrs. C. E. Thomas, sister of the injured woman.

NEW MEMBER OF COUNCIL VOTES AGAINST SCOTT

New Mayor Asks Co-Operation
Of City Council in Carrying Out City Issues

PREDICTS BIG EVENTS AHEAD

Audience as Well as Council Members Applaud Statement of New City Mayor

With one dissenting vote, the city council last night elected Councilman W. W. Scott to serve the city of Richmond as mayor for the coming fiscal year, ending June 30, 1926, literally speaking, the first meeting night of the council in July, 1926.

The one dissenting vote was cast by Councilman John I. Collins, newly-elected member of the city council whose first vote as a member of the city legislative body thus became a negative one.

In making the nomination of Councilman Scott, Mayor J. H. Plate commended him on his previous work as Mayor of Richmond, and after his selection to the chair Mayor Scott asked for the co-operation of the council and stated that with such co-operation as had been shown in the past the council would be in a position to successfully handle the big issues which he predicted would come before it.

Mayor Scott's short talk met with the instant approval of the audience in the council chamber as well as the members of the city council.

Mayor Scott appointed J. H. Plate and J. N. Hartnett as a committee of finance.

At the close of the session, John I. Collins, whose six-year term as a city councilman opened with his first appearance on the board last night, assured the council that he would co-operate with them to the best of his ability, and promised his friends in the audience that he would endeavor at all times to carry out the best interests of the city of Richmond, according to the best of his judgment.

Councilman Collins' statement met with applause from both council and audience.

No Announcement Made of Results Of Industry Meet

Guy W. Wolf, secretary-manager of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, stated last night that there was no announcement to be made in regard to the conference held in San Francisco yesterday afternoon by the executive committee of the chamber and San Francisco interests.

The conference was one of a series being held with interest in San Francisco, which may result in a new industry coming to Richmond. They are an outgrowth of the action on the part of the City of Richmond to develop its inner harbor which has already aroused interest outside capital.

The executive committee that attended the conference with Wolf is composed of H. A. Johnston, E. M. Lowner, Larkin J. Younce, Harlan Renwick, E. B. Bull and W. D. Mason.

PLUMBING REPORT

Report of Plumbing Inspector C. S. Ford for the month of June, as submitted to the city council last night, shows 51 inspections made, 16 permits granted and $47.50 fees collected.

Reserve Fund Provided for By Governor in Annual Budget

(By Universal Service)
SACRAMENTO, July 6.—Although Governor Richardson's budget for the biennium which commenced July 1, is much larger than the allowances of 1923, his "economy" flag is still flying at the administration mast-head, according to the State Board of Control, which today announced a plan for 10 per cent "unbudgeted reserves" in many of the California departments.

The "unbudgeted reserves" idea came into prominence in 1923, when Mrs. Nellie Brewer Pierce, erstwhile board of control member and "lady budgeteer" ordered each State department to refrain from spending a certain part of its appropriation. The departments, in several cases, opposed this "rainy day" precaution, holding that their applications were already small enough and that they ought to be allowed to spend what little they had.

The variation of this "unbudgeted reserve" plan to be inaugurated by the board of control as a suggestion rather than as a rigid order, it was indicated by H. Robert Braden, the present budget maker.

"In some of the departments, where practically all the appropriation is for the salaries of regular employees, an unbudgeted reserve would not be feasible," said Braden. "In the larger departments, however, a reserve to meet any departmental emergency, which might arise during the biennium."

The board of control holds that good business principles require such a reserve to meet any departmental emergency, which might arise during the biennium.

"The policy of economy will continue in force," said George H. Radcliff, chairman of the board. "The needs of all departments have been generously provided for in the budget and there is no reason why the expenditures of this money should not be gone about in a careful and economical manner."

Standard Oil Co. Buys Br. Tanker

The British oil tanker Montrolite has been purchased from Edward P. Earley & Company by the Standard Oil Company of California. The vessel's registry has been changed from English to American by her new owners and she will be placed in the coastwise oil carrying trade. The Montrolite is a vessel of 3997 tons register. The price of sale has not been made public.

Construction Bids On New Wharf to be Called Next Mon.

Plans for the construction of municipal wharf No. 2, on the Richmond inner channel, were received by City Manager A. J. McVittie last night, but were too late to be passed upon and made ready for council action. McVittie stated to the city council.

The completed plans will be presented to the city council at the meeting next Monday night and bids will be called for the construction of the approximately $85,000 wharf, it was stated. The original plans were drawn by S. F. B. Smith.

Richmond City Council to Attend
Mass Meeting in Oakland
City Hall Tonight

An organized effort to combat the move of the Key System Transit company to increase its fares will be launched tonight at a mass meeting in the council chamber of the Oakland city hall, and the resolution of the Oakland city council calling the meeting was read to the Richmond city council last night.

In response to the invitation to participate, the Richmond city council appointed City Attorney D. J. Hall to represent the city of Richmond at the meeting, and then, responding to an urgent appeal from Mrs. Marie Osborn, councilwoman, the local council called off its equalization meetings scheduled for tonight and decided to accompany the city attorney and attend the Oakland meeting in a body.

ALL TO PARTICIPATE.

All Eastbay cities have been invited to be represented by officials and the outcome of the discussion is expected to be a united front on the part of the various municipalities. The meeting will open at 8 o'clock tonight, and before it adjourns an organization will have been perfected, ready to start at once to gather the necessary data for possible legal moves against the traction company in the proceedings pending before the state railroad commission.

Sub-committees in Alameda, Berkeley, Piedmont, San Leandro, Hayward, Albany, Richmond, El Cerrito and Oakland, to be appointed by municipal authorities, will conduct separate investigations and report back to the main organization before the hearing is held before the railroad commission on the traction company's (Continued on Page 8)

WOMEN AS GUARDIANS

The intelligence of the American woman can be of great help in combatting the inroads of radicalism. Woman, the home-maker, is often the final bulwark of settled and orderly government, when a nation comes to the brink, and American women have that large interest in preservation of national ideals and securities that makes them proper guardians of peace.

A million of American women now stand pledged to take an active as well as a passive role in the constant battle to discourage radicalism. This pledge was given at Washington the other day when President Coolidge addressed the delegates of a national organization of women.

The red is not now the menace he was until the election of 1924. If he has the sense that God gave Coolidge, he will realize that his sphere of activity is about the size of a mustard seed. We can observe him mourning the set-back of his alleged liberal but truly destructive program, with a good deal of satisfaction, knowing that out of sensible conservatism can come all the forward-thinking and liberal vision that the country needs. The set-back is really a lesson on the subject of putting progressive problems up to the individual rather than making them the inspiration of more laws and more laws. So, women, setting out to preserve the institutions of our country do so knowing that they have the backing of millions of Americans, some of whom take the trouble to vote.

FAITH AND GOOD WORKS

The American habit of coining slogans might be very commendable, but it is the opinion of Richard F. Grant, President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, that slogans without good deeds to back them up are nothing more than pretty pearls of wisdom.

"I am very much interested," he said to a recent convention of retail merchants, "in the keynote, 'better selling', but any keynote or any slogan that you may adopt remains a slogan or a keynote unless you do something about it. We have a great habit in this country of passing resolutions and having slogans and deciding that some new pearl of wisdom has descended upon us and that everything will be all right. Better selling—you might just as well say behave yourself, and then go away and forget it unless you do something about it.

"Better selling, as I conceive it, does not mean selling more nor trying to crowd a market beyond the ability of a market to absorb, not indulging in unfair practices in competition with you, but does comprehend a realization of the responsibility which a man in business owes to his fellowman and his community."

DISTRIBUTION ON WHEELS

Business is beginning to wonder where it is heading now that it is on wheels. The automobile and the motor truck have given it a mobility that has, according to many observers, taken it out of the old highways and byways of trade and opened new paths for it to follow.

The distributor reaches out to greater distances with the truck, and the purchaser meets him more than halfway in the automobile. Some business men already profess to see sweeping changes in distribution methods as a result. It is asserted, for example, that the small American town is growing smaller and the larger marketing centers, being more accessible to a wider sweep of territory, are growing larger. One mail order house, finding that its customers now prefer to drive forty or fifty miles or more to do their shopping rather than rely on the catalogue and post office, is said to be considering the establishment of a chain of stores where the public can do its buying directly after looking over the stock.

These and other effects of the motorization of business will be studied as one of the phases of distribution by the National Distribution Conference organized under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The larger aspect of the same problem, the relation of motor transport to international trade, is also to be taken up by the International Chamber of Commerce at its meeting at Brussels next June.

PROTECT THE FORESTS

Fires are already breaking out in the hills. The duty to sow no seeds of fire is on everyone. It falls particularly on the vacationist now swarming the woods. The experienced outdoor man grinds tobacco leavings and match stubs into the dust with his heel. The campfire should be built only on bare ground, should never be left unattended, and should be thoroughly extinguished before the camp is left. The forests will be open as long as the public respects the rules for safeguarding them, otherwise they will eventually be closed during the summer to protect our timber resources.

The Toque Appeals to Women Who Want a Small Hat But Have Tired of the Cloche.

THAT brilliant artist who paints his pictures not in oil pigments on canvas, but in silks and felts, feathers, ribbons, bits of leather, metal glass, posed this way and that on women's heads—this extraordinary artist is quoted as having said that nothing that any or all of the milliners can do will persuade women to give up the cloche. The cloche they adore and the cloche they will continue to wear so long as they wear straight little frocks made as simple as can be.

You might further observe that these simple little frocks varying but slightly from season to season, will continue too, as long as conditions of living are what they are. So apparently there is no use longing for the return of the ornate, much-trimmed, picturesque hat of the past. To be sure wide-trimmed hats have come into some importance for midsummer, though not as much as milliners had hoped. But they are really nothing more than plain little and are at their best only when conforming to the simplest lines. But usually the toque is not so easy to wear as the cloche, owing to the absence of brim. Contrary to popular opinion, the toque ought really to be observed for the younger women.

WHERE IT STARTED

SHERATON FURNITURE

The Sheraton style of furniture was originated by Thomas Sheraton, a cabinet-maker of England, whose popularity came in the years 1791-1804. In spite of his skill he was always poor, a fact which was laid to his diversity of talents; it was said of him that he was able to do everything but nothing well.

cloches with wide brims attached. Two shapes are spoken of as successful rivals of the well-established cloche. They are the toque and the beretta. One of the most liked hats of the season—not of the cloche variety—is a toque made of narrow ribbon. Sometimes the ribbon is black, with edges of fine straw, also black, and sometimes it is made of several shades of colored ribbon, especially attractive in shades of violet.

The sketch shows two toques of the moment, one of navy blue straw trimmed simply with a small ribbon motif, and the other, a severer shape made entirely of narrow black satin ribbons. In their simplicity these little toques are like the cloche,

TRIMMING DESSERTS

SOME cooks carefully garnish salads and savory dishes, but neglect to use garnishings on desserts and sweet dishes, though these dishes are made more appetizing when they are trimmed a little.

Both whipped cream and sweetened beaten egg white are very attractive as garnishing, though many persons pile whipped cream and meringue on carelessly regardless of effect. In warm weather a nice dessert is made simply from gelatin flavored with fresh fruit juice and sugar—strawberry juice or raspberry juice for instance. When this is well set and you are ready to serve it you may break it up and pile it into sherbet glasses. Then whip the cream and carefully put a little whipped cream on each dish, bringing it up with the spoon into an attractive little mound with a point at the top. You may add a fresh strawberry to strawberry jelly or a raspberry jelly, or a candied cherry to any sort of jelly. To get the best results you may use a pastry bag for this purpose.

Candied ginger is liked by many persons for a garnish. Be sure not to use too much of it. If your candied ginger has become dried, put a few pieces in a strainer in the top of a dish of boiling water, cover it and let it steam. It will then be moist and luscious. For some purposes you may want it cut into strips, again you may want it cut up fine. Some people like a little chopped candied ginger sprinkled on the top of grapefruit when served for an appetizer. A little candied ginger sprinkled on pear salad is appetizing.

--and the Worst is Yet to Come

Maraschino cherries are used very generally as garnish for cake, creams etc. These do not keep very long after the container is opened. It is sometimes better to use candied cherries for this reason. If they seem to be a little dry they may be steamed in the manner described for the ginger. Cherries preserved in a rich ginger are used for this purpose by some cooks.

Bus to Replace Alvarado Section Street Car Line

Application of the Key System transit company to operate a bus line in lieu of a street car to serve the Alvarado Park neighborhood while the street car track is being relaid on Macdonald avenue from Twenty-third street to San Pablo avenue, was granted by the city council last night.

The permit will be in effect for 90 days, but may be discontinued when the track alterations are completed. Work on the track has already started, the street car service has been discontinued and the bus is now in operation from Twenty-third and Macdonald.

Key System Begins Track Construction 23rd to San Pablo

Construction work that will consume five weeks time, and cost in excess of $28,000 was started yesterday by the Key System Transit Company, on its Grand Canyon park car line. The rails and ties will be removed, and the road-bed re-levelled. The latest paving will be installed on the surface.

A temporary bus line has been established to handle the patronage of the company during the construction period. The route will be up Twenty-third street to Barrett avenue, thence out Barrett to San Pablo, and from there following the car lines to the park.

"TRANSPORTATION SERVICE"—IS A LIVE SUBJECT

IT'S very easy to KNOW the facts about Eastbay Transportation Service.

For example: What is the Franchise situation?

What is the average streetcar fare in American cities?

How much money does Key System receive from fares?

How is this money spent?

What is the "today" valuation of Key System property?

Is Key System "making money"?

All these questions, important to every Eastbay citizen, are answered, together with many others, in a little booklet entitled, "1924 Key System Transit Company Year Book and Report"—sent on request. Your representatives, the State Railroad Commission, the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Municipal Authorities already have this information. Here exactly the same facts are presented in condensed form, easy to read.

You ought to have this book. You ought to know the FACTS about Transportation Service in this community, because it is the greatest of all our community assets. Telephone, or drop us a card, and we will send you a copy. We have already distributed more than 60,000 of them. Ask for it today. Read and study it. If you do not understand it ask our department of Public Relations to explain it.

Two Injured in Holiday Season Motor Accidents

Six stitches were required to close the lip cut that James Lavelle, of Berkeley received as a result of his automobile being struck by a hit and run car, on San Pablo avenue Sunday night. Treatment was given at the Emergency hospital.

While she was riding with her husband to the Vallejo-Rodeo ferry on Sunday evening, Mrs. Ruth Rivera of Vallejo, sustained bruises and injuries to her side and back as a result of their machine turning over into a ditch near Pinole. The Wilson and Kratzer ambulance brought the injured woman to the Emergency hospital. She was later removed to the Cottage hospital.

No one was injured but the machines were badly damaged when an auto driven by John H. Heintz, of Oakland, and Clark L. Wood, 107 Tunnel avenue, collided at Wine street and Cutting boulevard.

Are You All Run Down

Feel all out of sorts?
Tired, achy, blue, irritable?
Back lame and stiff?
It may be the story of weak kidneys!

Of toxic poisons circulating about
Upsetting blood and nerves.
There's a way to feel right again.
Help your weakened kidneys with Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic.
Doan's are recommended by many Richmond people:

Mrs. A. Kukar, 1308 Bissell avenue, Richmond, says: "I have used Doan's Pills for attacks of kidney trouble and the have helped me wonderfully. My back was so weak and lame. I could hardly do my housework. I felt dull and run down and often had dizzy headaches. My kidneys acted irregularly. I used Doan's and they regulated my kidneys and relieved the aches and pains."

Mrs. Kukar is only one of many Richmond people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask, distinctly, for DOAN'S PILLS, the same that Mrs. Kukar had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 60 cents at all dealers. Packing Your Car for the Trip

What to take—how to take it and where to carry it are three of the biggest problems that confront the motor camper. "Campology" Franklin, in the accompanying article offers a few suggestions for loading the car to the best advantage.

A Well Balanced Load Assures a Well Balanced Trip

The problem of carrying the equipment is one that every camper must work out for himself as there is no one set of rules that can be applied to all motor camping trips. If two campers have the entire touring car to themselves the problem is very simple—pack it all in the tonneau. That applies as well to the motor camper with the roadster or coupe—store it all in the rear compartment.

But all of us do not drive roadsters, neither are we all lucky enough to have an entire tonneau of the touring car for baggage and camping goods so other places must be found to carry the equipment.

The transportation problem should be taken into consideration when the equipment is being purchased or assembled. It must be compact enough to fit in a small space and light enough to keep from overloading the car. That is why the household articles and furnishings cannot be used to advantage on the camping trip, but does not mean that convenience must be sacrificed for the same comfort giving equipment used at home may be had in portable form for the camp. Porcelain dishes used in the house would not fit in with the camping scheme, neither would the bulky pots and pans answer the camping need. The average bedding roll would be much too large to allow ease in handling so the tourist must provide compact equipment built especially for camping.

The logical place to carry the bulk of the equipment is on the running boards and rear trunk rack. These three places provide enough space so that little equipment is left to be crowded into the tonneau. When most of the apparatus is carried on the running boards, it will necessarily mean that the doors

"Eve's Secret" Is Revealed in Film At The California

Betty Compson and Jack Holt are co-starred in a picture for the first time in "Eve's Secret," directed by Clarence Badger for Paramount, and which opened yesterday at the California Theatre.

"Eve's Secret" adapted for the screen by Adelaide Heilbron from the Broadway stage success, "The Moon Flower," tells of Eve, a little French peasant girl, who becomes a Duchess.

Eve is a cobbler's daughter, who carries on an across-the-street flirtation with Pierre, a tailor's apprentice, played by William Collier, Jr. Holt, playing the Duke of Poltava, sees Eve and is struck with her beauty and spirit. Disgusted with all women of his own rank, as the result of a disillusionment, he decides that here is the girl he is going to make his wife. He sends her to Paris to be educated, and that is the last we see of her for three years, when we again come upon her as the center of attraction at the Villa d'Or, on the Riviera. The Duke keeps a jealous guard over her.

Who should arrive at the resort but Pierre. He has fallen heir to a small fortune and, rather than live in comfort back in the little French village for the rest of his life, has come to the Riviera to realize the ambition of a lifetime and "live like a Prince" for a week. Boylike, he pursues Eve (neither recognizes the other at first) with invitations that she dine with him. She finally consents and when the Duke walks in on them, there is the dickens to pay.

A duel at dawn brings the picture to a close. It is a case of winner loses. The picture will show what we mean.

After "Wanderer of the Wasteland," North of 36" and "The Thundering Herd," it's good to see Holt in a "dressed-up" role, though his trusty old six shooter comes in handy in this one, too. Miss Compson, also has the finest role of her career in "Eve's Secret." Collier is ideally cast.

Other features on the same program include "Andy in Hollywood," a Gumps comedy; "Aesop's Fables," "Topics of the Day," "Larry Canelo," at the organ.

"So This is Marriage" At Richmond Theatre Today is Rare Picture

It seems to this reviewer that those who go to the theatre seldom, as well as those who go more or less regularly, cannot afford to miss the Hobart Henley production, "So This is Marriage," which will be screened for the last time tonight, at the Richmond Theatre.

This is one of those rare pictures which possess not only unusual exacting, suspense and plot, but also includes a feature—an insert in natural colors of the Biblical story of David and Bath-Sheba—that is extraordinary in every way.

This sequence, which includes five hundred players clad in the vivid colors of King David's day, which are translated to the screen by the Technicolor process, is an insert in an otherwise ultra-modern story, of the gay and extravagant wife (Eleanor Boardman), the (her) husband (Conrad Nagel), and the sympathetic bachelor friend (Lew Cody). The remark of the wife to the husband, "Why don't you earn more money; other men do!" is significant of the situation that develops between them.

The insert in colors was directed by Mr. Henley from the eleventh and twelfth chapters of the second book of Samuel. It tells of the stealing of Uriah's wife, Bath-Sheba, by King David, their marriage after Uriah had been sent to his death by David, and later the death of their child. These scenes take place during a great feast and a vivid pageant and long will linger in the memory.

This is a Louis B. Mayer production through Metro-Goldwyn. "Carey Wilson wrote the story; the scenario is by John Lynch and Alice O. G. Miller.

Other features on the same program include Lloyd Hamilton in his funniest comedy entitled "Going East," "Jumping Jacks," a screen novelty.

ROBS SERVICE STATION

As Henry Bill was closing up the Standard Oil service station at Cutting and San Pablo, Saturday night, a lone bandit, wearing a cap pulled well down over his eyes, and garbed in overalls, ordered him to hand over the company's money. He escaped with $98, the receipts of the station since 5 o'clock that afternoon. The bandit made his get away on foot, and no trace of his has been found.

gram include "Andy in Hollywood," a Gumps comedy; "Aesop's Fables," "Topics of the Day," "Larry Canelo," at the organ.

Richmond Claims Fire Loss Honor

As the fire loss of the City of Richmond for the year was 58 cents per capita, and that of Alameda was $1.07, Fire Chief Cooper declared that he will claim the laurels of the state of California for this city. The National Board of Fire Underwriters, awarded Alameda the honors, following a survey of the losses of California cities of over 20,000 population. Chief Cooper believes that the board must have miscalculated or overlooked Richmond in the survey, and he has written to appraise it of the small loss here.

SPORTS

Fenix Beats Church; Takes Carlson Trophy

SECOND CHANGE OF BOB FENIX FOOLS CHURCH

Robert Fenix was acclaimed the most logical winner of the Carlson trophy in the finals of the Y. M. C. A. handball tournament last night when he defeated Maurice Church by 21 to 19, and 21 to 20 scores in two straight, tough games.

Fenix has beaten the best that the Y could produce. He started off by walloping Wilbur Pierce, one of Richmond's best; he had rather an easy time beating Chester Pimm; he took a comparatively easy win from Murry Hannon, and then had the hardest fight of the season with Church last night.

The game was almost a repetition of the first three. Fenix has an embarrassing change of speed on the serve. He always starts the game off with a burst of whirl wind speed to get his opponent well under way. Then suddenly he will start lobbing them up as easy as possible. The little black ball will loom up like a barn, and the swinger will swing with all his might and main, and miss. The fans at the Y. M. C. A. have yet to see a player who can fathom this apparently simple trick of the champ.

Tom Carlson who gave the handsome 22 inch cup for winner, was the champion in a tournament held some time ago. As he gave the trophy in this tourney he did not enter it himself. The handball advocates are now howling for a championship game between Carlson and Fenix to decide which of these two contenders is the real champ. It is hoped that the negotiations for this popular encounter will be started immediately and the series of three games played off in the near future.

You know it is germ trouble. Then destroy the germs.

Sulphur does that. We scientists never hope to find a method better. But we have found ways to give that sulphur multiplied effects. The new-day way is Menthosulphur. Rub in into the scalp where scale occurs or itching. Note how quickly all the trouble disappears. Dandruff and scale destroy the hair. Keep the scalp clean and the hair will be healthy. Apprentice Teams Play Title Game In San Bernardino

Whether the Richmond or the San Bernardino Santa Fe apprentice ball club will be sent east to play for the national championship will have to be decided in the game to be played at San Bernardino next Sunday. On the Fourth, Richmond beat the visitors 5 to 3 and on Sunday the tables were turned with the visitors winning 4 to 3.

The local club used Mathews in both games on the mound, and besides pitching fine games, he hit a homer in the eighth stanza of the last game. The eighth inning was also disastrous for him, as a San Bernardino boy clouted a double in that frame with one man on to win the game. The Richmond club used: Banducci, Sola, Jameson, Reitz, Matthews, Brown, Arthurs, Priznich, Stark, Schuster, and Martin.

The score by innings:

First Game
Richmond.....110 000 030—5
San Bernardino.....011 000 010—3

Batteries—Mathews and Reitz; Collins and Rorenson.

Second Game
Richmond.....010 100 010—3
San Bernardino.....001 100 020—4

Batteries—Mathews and Reitz; Staryek and Fox.

Richmond Keys Lose to Firemen

For the third time in as many games this season the Richmond Keys were humbled before the Richmond Firemen at baseball. This last event was played at First street on Sunday afternoon as the others were, but this game proved far more disastrous than any of its predecessors. The score was 11 to 5. Jiggs Wright and Huzefka formed the battery for Chief Cooper's aggregation while Greenway and O'Loan did the same for Tex Brown's Keys.

Due to alleged unfair dealings on the part of the officials, Greenway departed for the showers in a huff in the latter portion of the encounter. Davidson of the Firemen connected with a triple for the longest hit of the day.

Modern Woodmen Repeat Defeat Of Conn Drugs

Once more the ball tossers of Richmond Camp, Modern Woodmen of America exhibited their prowess, and their supremacy over the Conn Drug company on Sunday by handing out a pithy defeat by a 9 to 3 score. Ten hits and one walk off Murray enabled the axmen to get their runs, while B. Materia allowed only a pair of hits and a pair of walks, to the Druggists.

The lineups were:
Woodmen—Logan 1b; Mino, 1b; 2b; B. Materia, p.; Chaves, ss; Beria, cf; English 1b; Mino, c; Mariola 3b; Crawford, rf.
Conn's—Hirth, ss; Powers, c; Barberia, 3b; Gray, 1b; DeBare, lf; Dolan, rf; Muttile, 2b; Murray, p.

FERRY RECORDS BROKEN

Figures compiled by Moss Moch, manager of the Richmond-San Rafael ferry company, show that the holiday rush set a new record for any similar period of time in the history of the ferry. Between 6:20 Friday morning and 1 o'clock Monday morning, when the last car was taken across the bay, 30,000 passengers and 7,500 cars were handled, and without undue delay.

How To Be Healthy

By JOHN W. DEEMING

Here is another of the Record Herald's series of articles on health. Any questions will be answered by the author upon address to Box 5, care of this paper. Back numbers of this series may be had on request.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

HIKING

What do you think of hiking as a developer of a man's physique? Was it through hiking that the Indians of former days maintained such splendid bodily development?

James O'Leary.

ANSWER—
As a developer I don't think walking could come in that category, but, as a health giving exercise it is hard to beat. If walking is taken as an exercise and in the proper way it gives POISE and TONE to the body besides developing the breathing powers.

ONE ARM STUFF

Mr. Deeming:

My work at the local refinery requires that I use the muscles of my right arm and shoulder continually for eight hours a day. This involves a gross weight of the left arm which has a noticeably smaller muscular development. What exercise would you suggest that I may bring my left arm up to standard. And exercises for all around development such as one sees in magazines.

A. Goldstein.

ANSWER—

I wish you would write me again and tell me what kind of work you do. Do you use a hammer all day long? If you do, would it not be possible to change hands and use the left. If you cannot do that you may try chinning yourself up leaning the body over towards the left hand so that the left gets more weight than the right. As you become stronger you may grasp the bar with your left hand and the left wrist with your right hand and chin as many times as you can. That exercise will exercise the muscles in front of the arm. For the muscles of the back of the arms you may try the push up putting more weight on the left than on the right arm. push up as many times as you can. For all round development and strength I would recommend a course in weightlifting combined with gymnastic and tumbling work.

INTERNAL OR EXTERNAL

Which is the most important Internal Strength or External Strength is a question I was asked to think day by a man that seems to think that he can gain internal strength without the aid of exercise. Well may be he can. If he can, he is the only man that I know that has accomplished it. It is by the use of the external muscles that the internal muscles are strengthened. You cannot gain strength unless you use strength any more than you can make money without using money. The big thing is, to use it the right way.

Thousands of people have ruined their health by over exertion, by too much strenuous exercise. Not knowing when they have had enough. But there are hundreds of thousands that are not in the best of health because they have not had enough exercise of any kind.

It is very easy for a person to over exert themselves especially when they are playing games. How many times do we see men play 4 or 5 games of handball when one or two would have been as much as they needed. And also with boys playing basketball everyday when every other day or twice a week would have been enough, and in a few weeks they have burnt out, lost the staying power they had, then they begin to lose weight because they are breaking down tissue faster than they build it up. The first thing you know they are out of the game and most of them become knockers instead of boosters because they have been making an enemy out of their best friend so to speak.

TUBERCULOSIS OVERCOME
Oakland, Calif.
April 28, 1925.
For about three years I suffered from a bad cough and sore chest. I tried many doctors, all of whom pronounced my case Tuberculosis. My appetite was examined and showed tubercular germs. As I found no improvement from treatment, I decided to give the FONG WAN HERBS a test, as a last resort. After having drunk the herbs for four months, I was a well woman and had gained in weight. A year has elapsed since I began to take the FONG WAN HERBS on April 16, 1924, and today, I am still well and have no sign of my former complaints. (Signed) MRS. A. ACKERMAN, Fort Bragg, Calif. CONTRA COSTA DEALERS BUNKED BY CLEVER PAIR

MARTINSZ, July 6.—Traveling salesmen through Contra Costa are keeping a keen lookout for a clever bunco man who has victimized them or their customers of considerable money during operations that have extended over the last month.

Claude Kunhardt, Oakland candy dealer, one of the victims of the confidence worker, bared his loss today and sounded a warning to other salesmen and merchants through this district. Kunhardt lost $15 and other dealers and merchants have lost larger amounts.

According to Kunhardt, a man operates through the country districts, using a woman in San Francisco to further his scheme. Learning the identity of salesmen and their customers the confidence man has his own operative call a customer of the salesman, inform him that the salesman has purchased a suit of clothing in his city and request him to take delivery and care for the suit until the salesman's next visit.

When the parcel is delivered there is always a collect charge. The

Tax Roll Total Is Nearly $30,000,000

The assessed valuation of Richmond for 1925-26 is placed at $27,246,890—an increase of $603,575 over last year, City Collector J. O. Ford declared yesterday. The assessment rolls were checked over yesterday morning at 10 o'clock by the city council in a meeting of the board of equalization. Assessed valuation protests must be in the hands of the city clerk by 10 a. m. July 13, and they will be heard in the order of filing on the morning of July 15.

merchant unwittingly pays, expecting to be reimbursed by the salesman. The parcel usually contains old clothing.

In Kunhardt's case the plan was repeated. The woman operative in San Francisco called Kunhardt's Oakland office, informed him she represented a San Francisco firm and stated that Charles Mack, Pittsburg, a customer of Kunhardt's had ordered several shirts and asked them to be sent to Kunhardt's office to be delivered by him on his next trip to Pittsburg. A dapper young man delivered the shirts and one of Kunhardt's employees paid a collect charge of $15. Kunhardt learned on his next trip to Pittsburg that Mack had not been in San Francisco for months.

The Bercovich Cigar Company, the Richmond Soda Works and other concerns are said to have been victimized in the same manner.

KOZY KOVE IS SCENE OF BIG CELEBRATION

More than a thousand people flocked to Kozy Kove on July Fourth to enjoy the celebration sponsored by the West Side Progressive association, in spite of the rain that ushered in the day, but which stopped at time for the celebration.

The barbecued beef, which disappeared in short order, was delayed somewhat in the cooking because of the rain, so part of the program had to be cancelled. The speeches were not given, but the athletic events were held with the following results:

Fifty-yard swimming contest for boys, won by Richard Smith.

Fifty-yard swim, for all, won by Arthur Fisher.

Fifty-yard race for boys, won by Peter Agresta.

Pie eating contest for boys, won by Roland Ferrari.

Pie eating for girls, won by Martha Maffeo.

Swimming contest for girls, a tie between Mary Corr and Frances Perriotti.

The West Side Italian band furnished music for the dance which followed the sports, and early in the evening the crowd went to the West Side band stand where street dancing was held until a late hour. The success of the affair caused the association to decide to hold a similar celebration every year. Assisted by an able staff, C. M. Patten and Miss Catherine McCracken, were managers of the day.

June 30—A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Tillman.

plete its present plans, and the people will never be able to undo the strength of its hold.

State regulation, declared by Secretary Hoover to be fairly successful at present was challenged by Governor Pinchot, who said, "Mr. Hoover tells of the 5 per cent return on the power company's investments under state regulation. The Wall Street Journal editor in a recent issue of a Philadelphia paper reported the profits of ten power companies under state regulation during the last eighteen months, and showed that profit to be in excess of 10 per cent a month. Secretary Hoover's conclusions are mistaken as to service, mistaken as to rates, and as to stock issue."

Governor Pinchot pointed out the danger to state regulations as it exists, from a Supreme Court decision declaring power transmission across state lines as a matter for interstate commerce regulation.

"What state regulation we have is menaced unless the states can get together and strengthen present regulation through interstate laws, laws which are possible under the terms of the Federal constitution."

Governor Pinchot will spend tomorrow in the San Francisco bay cities, studying the water and power problems as it is confronting the cities today.

MOKELUMNE TO SUPPLY WATER TO INDUSTRIES

OAKLAND, July 6. (Special)—Some of the interior and bay shore communities may become water patrons of the Eastbay Municipal Utility District when the Mokelumne project is completed, it became known in a statement at the district headquarters today.

Arthur P. Davis, chief engineer and general manager, has been authorized to proceed with negotiations for the sale of water for domestic purposes to the communities and scattered residents along the route, and these negotiations will be formally opened as soon as the price of water and other details have been agreed upon by the board, it was said.

Among the possible customers are Stockton, Martinez, Pittsburg, and Crockett, as well as rural residents outside of these cities in the vicinity of the Mokelumne conduit.

In planning the Mokelumne project, according to the directors, the thought was kept in mind of serving the huge industrial zone lying along the bay shore, in addition to bringing water to the nine Eastbay cities within the district.

NOT SERIOUS PROBLEM

One of the largest industrial concerns in Contra Costa county has such a serious water problem that for some years it has been bringing in a large supply daily in barges from the Marin shore, purchasing it from the Marin Water district. Officials of this corporation at public meetings of the Utility District directors have stated they would be glad to obtain their supply from the Utility District system.

Many other requests for the use of Mokelumne water for domestic and industrial purposes have been received, it was said.

Thirty-five contractors have obtained copies of the plans and specifications of the Mokelumne project and are figuring on the job, according to Davis.

Most of the contractors seem to be large concerns with sufficient experience and financial responsibility to be considered seriously as bidders on a project of this magnitude.

BIDS OPEN SEPT. 4

Time of opening bids has been extended to September 4, a move which was necessary in order to give the contractors time to make their calculations and arrive at a bid. Davis said from present indications there is every reason to believe a large number of bids will be submitted by men who are in a position to carry out the work.

Davis and the board of consulting engineers will meet in Oakland immediately after the bids are opened to analyze the figures and decide what contracts are to be let.

The consultants are General George W. Goethals, builder of the Panama Canal; William Mulholland, constructor of the Los Angeles Owens river project, and C. E. Grunsky, former city engineer of San Francisco, well known throughout the country for his connection with the Panama Canal and other important projects.

BIDS BEING ASKED

Bids are being asked on the entire project from the Lancha Plana dam in the hills northeast of Stockton to the San Pablo reservoir back of Berkeley, as well as on parts thereof.

The original estimate of Davis and his board for the entire project for construction.

Progress is being made on right-of-way, it was announced yesterday. The board is obtaining easements through the property along the route of the conduit in which the Mokelumne pipe will be laid and covered. This ground will then be used by the farmers for the growing of all crops except trees, but the district will have the right at all times to enter this strip of land and uncover the pipe.

FUNERAL SERVICES TODAY

Refugio Zombiano will be laid to rest this morning at 9 o'clock from St. Paul's Catholic church. Refugio, who passed away Saturday night, was a 56 year old resident of San Pablo, and a native of Mexico. He was the husband of Mrs. Solidad Zombiano, and the father of Juan and Halibidad Zombiano. Arrangements for the funeral are in charge of Bert Curry.

FASHION OPENS JULY CLEARANCE SALE OF GOODS

The Fashion is staging an important July clearance sale that eclipses any previous sale ever held by this progressive store.

The event is psychologically timed and is carried out with the identical methods as those pursued by such large department stores as the City of Paris, White House, Emporium, etc.

The sale as a whole offers some wonderful bargains that the thrifty shopper will recognize immediately as out of the ordinary.

The manager says that the sale is made possible by reason that the Fashion is getting ready to get in the Fall goods and the space is needed for the new Fall goods.

application for permission to increase its fares.

The data to be gathered will aim to show that the Key System is not entitled to an increase in rates, it is said, despite its claim that it earns little more than three per cent annually on its total investment. It is further intimated that an effort will be made to force the company to return to its pre-war charge of five cents.

MAY LOWER RATES HERE

City Attorney Hall suggested last night that an effort be made to equalize the inequality in rates now existing between the county line and Richmond business district. Hall pointed out that a passenger could ride from San Leandro to the county line through Alameda county on a six cent fare, but as soon as they crossed into Contra Costa county two fares were collected in much less time.

DR. JAMES HARRISON ROGERS WHO SENT RADIO MESSAGE USING HIS UNDERGROUND ANTENNAE

Dr. Rogers of Hyattsville, Maryland, believes that long distance radio waves travel through the earth and sea rather than through the air. He recently proved this theory by transmitting a message from his laboratory to Toulon, France, by way of his underground antennae.
